

Citizenship

Course Overview

- Usual Age Range – 14-18
- Curriculum Time – One 50 minute lesson per week
- Assessment – Citizenship is not an examined subject and therefore is not formally assessed. Students will be informally assessed through pre and post surveys, half-termly quizzes and in-class progress checking.
- What is covered - See government guidance on Personal, Social, Health and Economic education here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/personal-social-health-and-economic-education-pshe> and Relationships and Sex Education here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/relationships-education-relationships-and-sex-education-rse-and-health-education>

Curriculum Intent

The intent of the Citizenship curriculum is to give UTC students an opportunity to develop their understanding of Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) education including Relationship and Sex Education (RSE). The intent is to ensure students have useful knowledge, understanding and skills that can be applied to real life scenarios in order that students feel confident to make safe, respectful and informed choices.

The further intent of the Curriculum is to enhance understanding of protected characteristics and Fundamental British Values, as well as contextual issues such as neurodiversity, gender identity and starting a new school.

Students are encouraged to develop their love of reading and literacy skills on this course by reading and analysing related texts and by engaging in structured classroom debate.

Students are encouraged to develop their numeracy on this course through teaching on money management.

Citizenship supports careers through a half-termly focus on related skills for the workplace, and a “Big Question” on the world of work.

Curriculum Overview

The learning in Personal Development is sequenced as follows. The Personal Development Curriculum within the UTC has also been developed to reflect the wider context of the UTC and where appropriate external agencies will be invited into the UTC to deliver sessions for our students.

The Key Stage 4 Citizenship lessons will be taught as independent lessons on a weekly basis. Key Stage 5 lessons will be taught as a unit of work and this will then link in with the wider curriculum model that has been created to ensure that Citizenship at Key Stage 5 supports students be ready for the next stage of their learning journey.
